People & Plant Interface Safety and Health Awareness Day

Introduction

This is a free event run by industry for the industry as part of the UK-wide Working Well Together (WWT) campaign.

21 people were killed on construction sites by a moving vehicle between 2010 – 2015

The aim of this event is not only to raise awareness of key health and safety issues facing the construction industry specific to your trade, but also to give practical advice on how to avoid risks on construction sites. In particular in relation to the interface between people and plant/transport.

If you are a small building, groundworks, construction or contracting company, or if you are self-employed then this free event is a must.

Free impartial advice available from the WWT industry partners.

There is no charge for this event so BOOK NOW as places are limited.

There is no dress code. Most demonstrations are outside so wear warm/waterproof clothing and footwear appropriate for the weather.
